SHCS Class of 2009

The SHCS Class of 2009 gathered with family and friends on May 14, 2009 at the Crowne Plaza for a breakfast buffet, video presentation and academic awards ceremony. The Baccalaureate Mass was held at Sacred Heart Cathedral that same evening. Congratulations to the graduating class of 2009 and best wishes from the entire SHCS community for continued success in all future endeavors!

Dear families and friends,

A few weeks ago, Patty West, the chairman of the eighth grade Graduation Reception committee, requested that I have the 8th grade students write a few lines along the theme of “Footprints on the Heart”. As I prepared for graduation, I have given considerable thought to that sentiment. The students wrote of the pride that they have felt over the accomplishments experienced throughout the years---how proud many of our students felt to be inducted into the National Junior Honor Society, or to have taken part in the Rose Receptions and Upward Trend. Middle school helped many of them realize that hard work and consistent effort are the basis of achieving good grades. I read in the lines that they felt prepared for high school. Students in the Class of 2009 have demonstrated leadership by being involved in student government, the tech team, and scouts. They have won speech contests and competed in a wide variety of scholastic events. Our students have participated in science fairs and lived through cow’s eye dissections. Our eighth graders remembered the excitement of attending Wesley Woods, Space Camp, and Camp Greenville. They have worked backstage and center stage to put on school plays. All of our students have created art and music, and raised their voices in song. Some of our students will be forever remembered for their interesting talent show acts! So many of our eighth graders talked about the huge accomplishment of being original members of the Liturgical Music ministry, and how proud they were to help bring it to fruition.

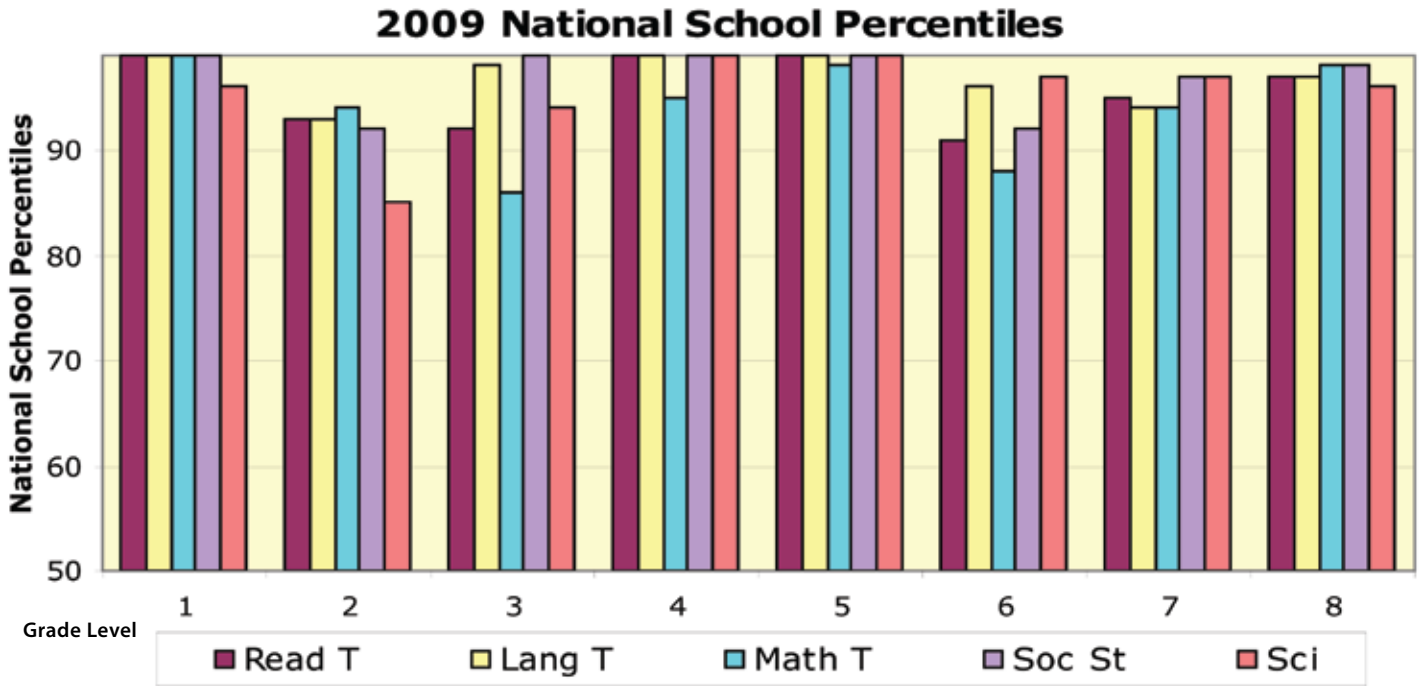

In the area of sports, our students have brought honor to our school on every playing field and court. They have demonstrated that whether it is a winning season or not, goals can be met when you worked together as a “team”.

I fondly read as the eighth grade students recalled being the “little kids”, and being in awe of the older students. And, as I have watched them take their turn at being the oldest, they have worked with buddy classes and camps created for the younger ones, served as tutors, provided encouragement and kindness, and were inspired to be positive role models. Our students have contributed by serving at Mass, completing thousands of service hours, and working on many projects for the school and in the community beyond its doors. They told me in their statements that they could see the impact of “being the body” in terms of the positive influence this school has had on them. They expressed appreciation for our Catholic school education, learned much about their faith and, as one student wrote, try to “be more Christ-like in everything I do”. Whether they had been a member of this school community since attending the preschool or only for a single year, our students have made great friends and found that they have had amazing teachers. I was impressed by the number of students that said they would carry on the values, enthusiastic attitude, and self-confidence learned at Sacred Heart to high school and throughout their lives. What most of the eighth graders recognized is the importance of everyone’s presence and individual contributions to the school! Especially during their final year, through all the achievements and hard work, they realized that they helped transform a brick and mortar facility into a “place of heart”.

William James said, “The great use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it.” Our eighth grade students understand that they have made a lasting and wondrous impression on those who follow. They feel the importance of doing so. What a thought as they continue life’s journey. . . Congratulations to the class of 2009!

On Tuesday, April 21, Speaker Pro Tempore Jamie Woodson met with a group of 7th graders from Sacred Heart Cathedral School who traveled to Nashville to tour the State Capitol. Their teacher, Mr. Torregiano, recognizes the importance of educating the students on governmental practices and procedures, and we commend him for his commitment. From Tennessee State Senator Jamie Woodson's website: <http://www.jamiewoodson.com/media09/04-09/media04-23-09.htm>

President's Award for Academic Excellence

The President's Education Awards Program, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Education, in partnership with the National Association of Elementary School Principals and the National Association of Secondary School Principals, was developed to help principals recognize and honor those students who have achieved high academic goals by their hard work and dedication to learning. Sacred Heart Cathedral School is blessed to have 35 eighth grade students honored this year by the President's Award for Academic Excellence. They are, in alphabetical order:

SHCS Faculty Awards

On the last day of school, Mrs. Prater, Father Al and Father Michael honored faculty and staff for their service to Sacred Heart. Those receiving recognition this year are the following:

5 years: Theresa Buckman, John Gensheimer, Kristin Peters, Misty Ridings

10 Years: Susan Clifton, Chris Gilliland, Debbie Jackson, Deacon Jim Lawson

15 Years: John Chandler

20 Years: Jan Byers, Melanie Mundy, Connie Schmidt

Mr. John Chandler receives his 15 Year award plaque from Father Al on May 22, 2009 for his dedication and service to Sacred Heart Cathedral School.

Fifth Grade Blasts Off

The Sacred Heart fifth grade class visited Space Camp at The U.S. Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville, Alabama, April 1st-3rd. Fifth grade teacher, Ms. Maria Harnett, said, "At Space Camp, spatial technology of the past and present is showcased, and students see how math and science can come together in fun and exciting ways. There are unique, hands-on learning opportunities and attractions, such as the Space and Rocket Center Museum, which is home to the United States' largest collection of rockets and space memorabilia including the Apollo 16 capsule." Other attractions include simulators such as the air-defying Space Shot, which shoots people 140 feet straight up in the air in less than 5 seconds, the Lunar Rover, and the centrifuge, which can simulate up to five times the force of gravity. Harnett also said, "the students enjoyed IMAX movies, rocket building, and scientific experiments. Everyone had such a great time while visiting The Space and Rocket Center; perhaps we have some future astronauts among us!"

German Saturday School Receives Partnership

On May 12, the German Saturday School of Knoxville, hosted by Sacred Heart Cathedral School, received the esteemed recognition and honor to be named one of the forty-one schools in the Partners of the Future initiative by the German Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Dr. Lutz Hermann Gorgens, Consul General of the Federal Republic of Germany presented the plaque and the corresponding grant designating the German Saturday School of Knoxville as a recognized PASCH School (partner school) at a reception held at Sacred Heart Cathedral School. The PASCH program was started by the German government in 2008 to promote and foster the study of the German language and culture.

The German Saturday School of Knoxville Board is comprised of representative leaders in the field of language including Dr. Stefanie Ohnesorg, President of the German Saturday School, Dr. Charles Mellor, a University of Tennessee professor of German language, and Mrs. Sedonna Prater, Principal of Sacred Heart Cathedral School.

There are eighty-five students from both SHCS and the larger community currently enrolled in the German Saturday School and ten highly qualified teachers. The students meet weekly at Sacred Heart and study German language and culture. It is outstanding preparation for travel, study or work in German-speaking countries. As Dr. Gorgens stated in his presentation speech, "one can not truly know oneself until one knows another language". If the students complete the year in good standing, the students receive credit on their SHCS cumulative record. With this addition of the PASCH network status students will now be able to

Dr. Lutz Hermann Gorgens, the Consul General of the Federal Republic of Germany (L), and Dr. Stefanie Ohnesorg, President and Principal of the German Saturday School of Knoxville, Inc. (R) present Sacred Heart Cathedral School Principal Mrs. Sedonna Prater with the Partners of the Future Education award.

Lend A Hand Fund Update

In the midst of the difficult economic times that our country is facing, our Catholic schools became concerned about the number of families that experienced a dramatic change in household finances. For most of us, we do not have to look very far to find a family member, friend, or neighbor who has lost a job because of the declining economy. Because of growing concern that our Catholic families may have to choose between Catholic school education and other family needs, the Knoxville area region organized a drive entitled the Lend a Hand Fund. Area Pastors and Principals joined efforts to collect contributions that could be distributed to those families that have had a change in circumstance since the beginning of the year and may benefit from tuition assistance. It was collected in offertory baskets or by the school and given to the Knoxville Regional Catholic School Operating Fund so that it could be equitably distributed among Catholic students in any of the regional schools, Sacred Heart Cathedral, St. Joseph School, St. John Neumann, and Knoxville Catholic High School.

The effort was extremely successful and raised more than $95,000. Funds were contributed from parishioners of the following parishes: Sacred Heart Cathedral, St. Albert the Great, Holy Ghost, Immaculate Conception, All Saints, Our Lady of Fatima, and St. Joseph in Norris. In addition, the Principals from SHCS, St. Joseph, St. John Neumann, and Knoxville Catholic High schools encouraged donations through their respective communities. On behalf of all of the Principals and Pastors, we would like to thank all of you that may have contributed to this fund. Sacred Heart Cathedral parish and Sacred Heart Cathedral School combined raised $37,036. KCHS had the next highest contributions with $29,239, followed by All Saints with $11,015. Families in Sacred Heart Cathedral School benefited by this effort by receiving approximately $29,000 in tuition assistance.

If anyone would like to continue to donate to the Knoxville Regional Schools Operation Fund for tuition assistance, please contact the Sacred Heart Business Office at 558-4101.

First Holy Communion

Sacred Heart Cathedral School second graders made their First Holy Communion on Saturday, May 1st. Teachers Ms. Fran Herrick, Mrs. Kristin Peters, and Mrs. Monica Chrysandreas, along with Religious Education Director Brigid Johnson prepared the 53 Communicants throughout the year. In addition to Father Al Humbrecht, Deacon Jim Lawson, and Deacon Joe Stackhouse, pictured below are:

Nicole Arnone, Brooke Bellinghause, Riley Belt, Noelle Beswick, Alec Bindner, David Bush, Hutton Butler, Audrey Champelli, Caitlin Christiansen, CeCe Coakley, Olivia Cunningham, Andrew Della-Rodolfa, Christian Dempster, Dakota Dickinson, Alex DiFelice, Rency Dunlap, Will Dupree, Bridget Greer, Beny Guerrero, Sean Halstead, Sydnee Hansraj, Hannah Heckler, Emma Kochanowski, Lainie Lacey, Alex Lensgraf, Hansel Lin, Isaias Luna, Yareli Mata, Emmanuel Mata, Justin Maynard, Daniel Maynard, Chloe Merry, Max Mizerski, Valerie Monarrez, Lucy Moore, Jordan Natour, Jasmine Osuna, Natalie Perry, Michael Ray, Trey Ridenour, Lydia Simerlein, Hannah Sorenson, Hannah Southall, Justin Stackhouse, Christopher Torres, Grace Trzeciak, Paul Velas, Zoe Velas, Saymo Velazquez, Michael Wells, Ashleigh Williams, Tommy Williams, Maggie Zibas.

Heart-to-Heart Players

The SHCS Theater Department presented two very successful productions this year! The fall play, “It’s a Bird, It’s a Plane, It’s a Nerdman”, was a silly spoof on Superman, and the spring presentation, the classic drama, “Pollyanna”, showcased the wide spectrum of the talents of our students.

Producer/Director Mrs. Libby Talley says, “Actor selection is the most difficult of all the decisions a Director must make. I agonize over each role, trying to make sure that every actor fits the role. The students must choose a skit, reading, or poem that they feel will make them competitive for a role. Every student tries to show her/his talents, and just by auditioning tells me how much being in the play means to them. I want to include as many students in a production as I can, and usually stretch the number of roles.”

Once the role selection is made, the process of “putting on a play” is fast paced with rehearsals after school every Monday through Thursday for one and a half to two hours. There are some weekend practices, including the essential technical rehearsals on the Saturday and Sunday before the dress rehearsal that are the first blending of the cast and the tech crew. The cast is responsible for learning all of their own lines and their cues from other actors’ lines. If there is music, dancing or singing in the play, the actors must also learn all the lyrics and choreography.

Technology Coordinator, Ms. Ann Wayburn and Associate Technology Coordinator, Mr. Robert Gatton have assembled a wonderful “Tech Team” comprised of fifth through eighth graders that run lights, sound, and help on-stage. The tech crew is an integral part of our productions.

The Cast of Pollyanna included: Camille Baker, Abby Blevins, Madelyn Collins, Victoria Crawford, Michael Erpenbach, William Ewell, Christian Gash, Ashley Gensheimer, Parker Gen-

The cast and crew of all the plays always wish to thank our parents who get us to practices, provide treats at practice, get our costumes, and love us. -Libby Talley

Editor’s Note: The spring play, “Pollyanna” was Director Libby Talley’s twentieth production at SHCS! Thank you, Libby!

Winners From Sacred Heart

CONATY STATE CHAMPION IN SPEECH

On May 16, Kathleen Conaty became the Tennessee Optimist Oratorical Girls State Champion. Her journey started when she first won the speech class contest, then won from Sacred Heart, and then took the award from the Knoxville Optimist's Club. From there she advanced and won the East Tennessee District, before going to the state level in Nashville to compete.

The competition concluded at the state level where she competed against others from Memphis, Nashville, and Chattanooga. She was awarded a $1500 scholarship!

The theme for this year's contest was "For Me, Optimism Is..." Congratulations to Kathleen and thank you for representing Sacred Heart Cathedral School!

Speech students at SHCS are coached by Mrs. Connie Schmidt and Mrs. Susan Clifton.

CHAVEZ WINS QSP SCHOLARSHIP

QSP, Inc. and Catholic Digest are pleased to announce that Sacred Heart Cathedral School eighth grade student, Jacqueline Chavez, is the winner of their $1,000 scholarship.

The scholarship is called the "QSP/Catholic Digest Leadership Award" and is awarded to a deserving student who exemplifies the essence of the award, "Inspiration through Leadership."

The winner must demonstrate strong leadership qualities, good character, positive attitude, class attendance, class participation, community involvement, and must be advancing to a Catholic high school.

Congratulations, Jacqueline!

SPALDING WINS SCHOLASTIC ART

The winners of the National Level Scholastics Arts competition have been selected and out of 585 winners from across the United States, East Tennessee received only seven awards.

Out of those seven, Sacred Heart 8th grade art student Preston Spalding won a Silver Medal for this "Heart and Sole" Shoe Sculpture. Congratulations to Preston for representing our school and our region. Preston was the ONLY middle school student in our area who was recognized. The other six winners were high school students. All National medal winners like Preston will be honored at Carnegie Hall in New York City, June 4th, 2009.

Way to go, Preston, for being a National Winner for the Scholastic Art Awards. SHCS Art Teacher, Mrs. Tina Marchegianni is the faculty sponsor of this annual art project. Congratulations to Mrs. Marchegianni as well!

Eagle Eye on...Kelly Rexrode

Sacred Heart 3rd grade teacher Kelly Rexrode is heading into her twentieth year at SHCS, coming to Knoxville in the fall of 1990. Kelly was born in Baltimore, Maryland and attended Milligan College in Johnson City, Tennessee. She did her student teaching in second and fourth grades at Happy Valley Elementary School in Johnson City. After graduating, she worked at a daycare, taught pre-school summer music at a Methodist church, and then landed at St. Mary's School in Johnson City, teaching 5th and 6th grades and middle school fine arts classes.

When asked what keeps her motivated as a teacher, Kelly says it is "the energy, the excitement, joy, smiles, and laughter from the students!" She believes that a great teacher is "one who tries to love and teach their students as Jesus would. One who inspires the students to 'reach for the stars' and to 'never give up on themselves.'" Her favorite aspect of teaching is simply "interacting with the students all day. Being able to watch their excitement for learning and life every day - it's contagious!

They make teaching so worthwhile!"

Kelly also tries to keep in touch with her former students saying that "it's nice to have students come back to Sacred Heart just to stop by and tell you how they are doing and what they remember about 3rd grade. Some students even write and share what's going on in their lives!" A couple of memories that jump out at Kelly was the time she sat down in the lunch room at the boys table. One of the boys exclaimed to the other boys, "It's okay guys, she's one of the good ones!" Another time, a student prayed for her out loud in the classroom saying, "May she use her powers for good!" Other favorite things are "directing the skits at Grandparents Day, the students singing with me as I play guitar at mass, or for Catholic Schools Week celebrations!" Kelly is also instrumental in the planning and organization of the annual 3rd Grade Class trip where the students and teachers stay 3 days and 2 nights at the environmental education program at Camp Wesley Woods in Townsend, Tennessee.

Kelly believes in the importance of Catholic education. She says "it is Christ-centered and realizes that the true source of all knowledge and wisdom comes from God. Its educators seek to instill these Biblical principles in young hearts and minds now and for all eternity!" She adds that "SHCS is a special place because of the wonderful students, parents, and staff who are all striving to be like Christ. Together, we have a loving, caring, faith-based school and parish."

Lastly, Kelly imparts that the verse she tries to abide by each day is from Micah 6:8: "Do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with my God." She adds that "all 613 Old Testament precepts are included in this one verse!"

Sacred Heart Cathedral School is blessed to have Kelly Rexrode inspire our 3rd grade students!

Kelly Rexrode and her 3rd grade class dress up as their favorite book characters during their "Race to Read" class project.

3rd grader Noah Bond shares a memory with Ms. Rexrode and the class during Grandparents and Special Friends Day.
